Youthful and Talented Cast Will Take the Floor in 2002

Graduation may have led to the departure of five starters from the Creighton Volleyball program, but that won't stop the 2002 Bluejays from taking the floor with the feeling they can beat any team they face in their most ambitious schedule to date.

Gone from last season's 14-13 team are all-time kill leader Melissa Walsh, all-time ace leader Molly Moran and all-time dig and assist champ Kailey Reyes. However, seven letterwinners return from a program that has posted consecutive fourth-place finishes in the Missouri Valley Conference.

"We're going to have a different look this year compared to last year," said sixth-year head coach Howard Wallace. "We lost a lot of starters and major role players. All six of the people who graduated were major contributors. The exciting part is that we're loaded with talent for the upcoming season.

"We need to have the attitude where we go in and play our best and not worry about potential consequences."

Creighton's lone returning starter is junior Jaden Custer, who will be converted from an outside hitter to the setter position. Custer averaged 2.03 kills per game while starting 15 matches last year.

Challenging Custer at the setter slot will be true freshman Liz Hagerman and redshirt freshman Jadee Tanabe, who missed all of last season after knee surgery.

"There will be some changes with Kailey gone," said Wallace. "Jaden Custer will step in as the setter. Liz Hagerman is coming in as a freshman from Kansas and she will likely be the back-up setter. We also have Jadee Tanabe coming off a knee injury and she also will get reps at the back-up setter role if needed, but her major role will be as a defensive specialist."

CU's lone returning starter, Jaden Custer, makes the move to setter this season.

CU's only seniors, Jodi Bjoin and Lyndsay Olsen, are both in the mix to claim playing time as outside hitters. Bjoin averaged 0.63 kills and 2.66 digs per game last season while playing in 90 games. Olsen saw less time but averaged 1.18 kills in 28 games.

MaryJane Hyde, Lisa McEwan and Leah Ratzlaff don't have the experience of the others but each boast tremendous potential that should make for an exciting future. Hyde averaged 0.87 kills and 0.74 blocks per game in her debut season and is coming off a solid spring season, while McEwan redshirted last season.

Olsen, Hyde and freshman Katy Grady are the top threats to fulfill the right-side hitter position.

"Between Jodi Bjoin and Lyndsay Olsen, both are capable outside hitters," commented Wallace. "Lyndsay's spent more time on the right side for us, but both will be looked at as potential left-side attackers. Lisa McEwan will also be looked at that position. Leah Ratzlaff's strong point is left-side hitter and she'll challenge for that position. She is probably the one true left-side freshman we have at this point."

Creighton's middle hitters will be led by sophomore Ashley Williams. A highly-touted recruit, Williams lived up to her advance billing as she earned a spot on the MVC all-Newcomer team while averaging 1.92 kills and 1.09 blocks per game.

Classmate Sarah Beulke will have an increased role in her second season. Grady, a 5-11 recruit from LeMars, Iowa, could make an immediate impact at either the right side or middle hitter positions. Wallace also noted Hyde could also see time at the middle hitter position.

"In the middle from last year we have Sarah Beulke and Ashley Williams," said Wallace. "MaryJane will still do some back-up in the middle, but Katy Grady comes in and I'd like to see how she can fill that role. She is similar to Melissa Walsh in body type, size and movement. She jumps higher than Melissa did and she's quick like her and so she could fit into that role. Melissa did really well as everybody knows and it would be fun to see Katy challenge Sarah and Ashley."

In the back row, Tanabe and Janeen Piller will share time in the defensive specialist and newly-approved libero roles. Piller owns one of the team's strongest serves and also recorded 21 digs in 23 games last season.

"We'll have Jadee Tanabe and Janeen Piller as our defensive specialists/liberos," said Wallace. "I haven't determined yet how I'm going to use libero because it's restrictive in some regards but advantageous in others. I see both Jadee and Janeen filling that role from one game to the next depending on what we need."

Once again, Creighton will face a rugged schedule that includes at least five matches against top-20 teams from a year ago.

"It's my intention to have a schedule with great competition," said Wallace. "We're going to have our work cut out for us, but I'm looking forward to our players understanding mentally that the goals for playing those teams aren't based on the outcome of the final score. We always do things to prepare us for conference play, because that's what will matter in the end."

Head Coach Howard Wallace

Howard Wallace
Head Coach
Sixth Season

Head coach Howard Wallace enters his sixth season laying the groundwork for the Creighton Volleyball program.

In five years Wallace has compiled a school-record 65 victories while leading his team to four Missouri Valley Conference Tournament appearances.

Evidence of a program on the rise came when last season's team was tabbed second in the preseason MVC poll. The high expectations followed a best-ever 16 wins in 2000 and fourth-place finish in the always-tough Valley standings.

Among the highlights from the 2001 season were a slew of school records being smashed by arguably the strongest senior class in the program's history. Melissa Walsh became the all-time kills leader with 1,596 kills, while Molly Moran took over the top spot with 145 service aces. Not to be outdone, Kailey Reyes claimed career honors with 4,207 assists and 1,258 digs.

Facing the school's strongest schedule ever--CU played five matches vs. nationally ranked teams in 2001--the Bluejays learned from some non-conference setbacks en route to the best MVC start (7-1) in school history. By the end of the campaign, Creighton had wrapped up a program-record 12 league wins and tied for fourth place in The Valley.

The 1997 MVC Co-Coach of the Year, Wallace has now guided the Bluejays to MVC Tournament appearances in four of his five seasons.

Under Wallace's tutelage, the 1997 team captured third place in The Valley with a 10-8 mark and made the school's first-ever MVC Tourney appearance. Their 15-13 record that fall remains the second-best by a CU volleyball squad since the program's 1994 revival.

Wallace's teams have excelled in the classroom as well as on the court. He has coached 14 MVC scholar-athletes and his Bluejays have earned the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) team academic award five times in the last six seasons.

Wallace came to Omaha after spending nine seasons with the nationally-ranked volleyball program at the University of Hawaii, seven of them as associate head coach. He helped lead the Rainbow Wahine to a 35-3 record in 1996, which included a Western Athletic Conference Pacific Division title and a runner-up finish in the NCAA Tournament.

Wallace joined the Hawaii program in 1988 as a volunteer assistant and was promoted to associate head coach in 1990. During that time, the Rainbow Wahine posted a 209-49 (.810) record, made eight trips to the NCAA Tournament, twice advancing to the NCAA championship match, and won two Big West Conference titles.

During his tenure at Hawaii, Wallace was active with numerous club volleyball teams and founded the Ku'upau and Laulima Volleyball Clubs. He coached the Asics Rainbow Junior Girls Volleyball Club to a fifth-place finish at the 1994 Junior Olympics after winning the Nike Volleyball Festival and Las Vegas Invitational titles that same year. Wallace currently serves as technical director for the Omaha Momentum Volleyball Club.

Wallace began his collegiate career as co-head coach at San Bernardino (Calif.) Valley College in 1983 before moving on to an assistant coaching position at the University of Houston in 1984. He helped guide the Cougars to an 81-60 (.574) record in four years, including a pair of 24-win seasons.

A native of Hawaii, Wallace began his undergraduate work at the University of Hawaii from 1976-78 and graduated from Washington State in 1981 with a bachelor's degree in anthropology / archaeology. While there, he served as president, coach and player for the Cougar men's club volleyball team.

The 45-year-old Wallace earned a master's degree in education administration from the University of Hawaii in May 1996. He enjoys running competitively in 10K races and longer. He and his wife, Tommie Ann, are the parents of an eight-year-old daughter, Kathryn, and a four-year-old son, Eric.

Howard Wallace has brought a winning attitude to the Creighton volleyball program.

Julie Krofcheck & Molly Moran

Julie Krofcheck
Assistant Coach
Fourth Season

Julie Krofcheck enters her fourth season as an assistant coach with the Creighton volleyball program.

That Krofcheck's tenure has paralleled Creighton's rise in the MVC standings is no coincidence. The Bluejays have qualified for the MVC Tournament in each of the previous three seasons with her on the bench in Omaha. In addition, Creighton has led the Missouri Valley Conference in digs in four consecutive campaigns.

At Creighton, Krofcheck serves as the team's recruiting coordinator, assists with scheduling and helps direct camps. In addition, she has worked closely with both CU's front and back row players. Perhaps her top pupils to date have been two-time all-MVC setter Kailey Reyes and three-time all-MVC pick Melissa Walsh. Reyes graduated in 2001 with CU records for assists and digs, while Walsh owns the school's kill mark.

Krofcheck's involvement with the Bluejay volleyball program dates back to when she worked at head coach Howard Wallace's summer camps prior to joining the Jays' staff.

"Julie adds a lot of energy to this program and has been very complementary to my style of coaching," says Wallace. "She is extremely enthusiastic and is quite a presence on the court during practices."

Krofcheck is a native of Redding, Calif, came to Creighton following three seasons as the head volleyball coach at Dana College in Blair, Neb. She also has teaching experience, having served as a full-time instructor in the physical education department while at Dana.

She previously worked as an assistant volleyball coach at Kansas State from 1995 to 1996 and held a similar position at Northwest Missouri State from 1994 to 1995. Krofcheck also has coached the Omaha Momentum Volleyball Club for the past four seasons.

Krofcheck began her playing career at American River Junior College in Sacramento, Calif., and earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Union College in Barbourville, Ky., in 1994. She played for the Bulldogs, earning NAIA All-America honors as a senior. She received her master's degree in kinesiology from Kansas State in 1996.

She is a former member of the Nebraska Tornadoes, where her team won the 1998 National Volleyball Association title in the indoor women's professional volleyball league.

Molly Moran
Assistant Coach
First Season

Molly Moran joins the Creighton coaching staff after four years as a member of the Bluejay volleyball program as a student-athlete.

In addition to monitoring the day-to-day operations of the program, Moran will work closely with the team's passing, serving and defense as she leans on her backcourt expertise from years of playing. The Bluejays led the MVC in digs all four years Moran played for Creighton.

As a player from 1998-2001, Moran appeared in 99 matches and 341 games. She owns Creighton records for career aces (145) and aces per game (0.43) while ranking seventh with 788 career digs and eighth with 2.31 digs per game.

On the single-season charts, Moran owns the top two spots in both aces (59 in 2000, 47 in 2001) and aces per game (0.56 in 2000, 0.50 in 2001). In addition, Moran had a school-record seven aces in a three-game win against Drake as a junior.

In the spring of 2002, Moran was selected as a National Strength & Conditioning Association All-American. Moran was nominated for the honor by CU Strength & Conditioning coach Satoshi Ochi due to her dedication to strength training and conditioning. The honorees are recognized for their athletic accomplishments, academic and personal achievements, community involvement and leadership qualities.

In the classroom, Moran owned a 3.70 GPA while receiving her degree in exercise science. In 2001-02, she earned the Missouri Valley Conference Commissioner's Academic Excellence Award while also landing a spot on the MVC's Honor Roll.

An Omaha native, Moran was team captain and team MVP at Benson High School, earning honorable-mention all-state laurels as a senior.

2002 Rules Changes

The NCAA Women's Volleyball Rules Committee, at its February 18-21 meeting in Scottsdale, Ariz., approved several rules changes for the 2002 women's volleyball season including the use of the libero player with 12 substitutions.

The committee adopted the libero as a designated back-row player who cannot serve, attack or set inside the attack line.

Terry Pettit, chair of the committee, said, "We belive the adoption of the libero will add a new element of excitement to the game, raise the level of play and has the potential to create opportunities for the smaller athlete."

Other important rules changes adopted for 2002 are:

• The use of the pursuit rule allowing players to retrieve a ball that has crossed the centerline outside the court under certain circumstances.

• Games will still be played to 30 points for games one through four, and to 15 points in the deciding game. However, in a deciding game, teams must switch sides at eight points.

• Expulsion or disqualification of a player results in a loss of rally (point for the opposing team).

• Net sleeves will be allowed on top of the net with adequate securing devices.

• The color of the libero's uniform must contrast from the color of her teammates' uniforms. The libero's shorts must be the same as her teammates'. The style and trim of the designated libero's uniform may differ from her teammates'. The referees will ultimately decide if the amount of contrast is sufficient.

• One libero is designated on the lineup sheet prior to each game. If a libero is not designated on a lineup sheet for a game, the team may not use a libero. A coach can designate a different libero for each game.

• Restrictions applying to the libero include:

-The libero plays only in the back row

-The libero may not serve

-The libero may not block or attempt to block

-The libero may not attack the ball if contact is made while the ball is completely above the height of the net

-A teammate may not attack a ball that is completely above the height of the net if the libero set that ball to her from the attack zone using an overhand finger pass

Class of 2001 Leaves Strong Foundation

Six student-athletes instrumental in the climb of Creighton Volleyball to the MVC's upper-echelon closed out some standout careers last fall on the hardwood.

The majority of the group arrived in the fall of 1998, and slowly climbed from five MVC wins as freshmen, nine as sophomores, 10 as juniors, to a school-record 12 as seniors.

The individual accomplishments of the six are solid, but even more remarkable when one considers they were all collected as teammates.

Three-time all-MVC first-teamer Melissa Walsh established a new mark for career kills (1,596). Walsh, a five-time selection as MVC Player of the Week, was also a three-time MVC scholar-athlete first team choice, including unanimous honors in 2001.

Kailey Reyes graduated with CU records for assists (4,207) and digs (1,258). Reyes was twice named first-team all-MVC and ranked among the MVC leaders in assists per game.

Molly Moran completed her career with a new school record for service aces with 145 and 0.45 service aces per game for her career.

"Our 2001 seniors set some examples on what can be done. To have people come in and do those things sets exam - ples for our current and future players."
--Howard Wallace

Kelli Koochi was a crucial back-row player who finished her career with 588 career digs to rank ninth in CU history.

Erin Swanson was a 2001 second-team all-MVC selection after 3.5 kills and 3.47 digs per game in her final campaign. She was one of four MVC players to rank in the top 10 in both kills and digs last season.

Though just a junior in eligibility, Lisa Meekins graduated last fall to end a solid career with 626 kills and 224 blocks in only three seasons. Meekins was named to the MVC's 1999 all-Newcomer team and was an honorable-mention MVC Scholar-Athlete in 2000.

"Our 2001 seniors set some examples on what can be done," said Howard Wallace. "To have people come in and do those things sets examples for our current and future players. I would emphasize that they look at those things and see what they can do to perform at that level and figure out how they can perform at that level and have some great results in the end."

Bluejay Volleyball Camps

Programs Designed For All Ages And Skill Levels!

Whatever age or level of skill, players at Bluejay Volleyball Camps receive the individual attention - and competition - they need to grow and improve! They'll be assigned to the group that comes closest to matching their age and skill level. They'll practice with, and play against, players whose proficiency is comparable to their own. Our training, drill, practice and competition programs are geared specifically to the skills of each group.

Individual Camp
Will focus on practice and basic skills - setting, passing, spiking, blocking, digging and serving. Daily exercise and warm-up drills, technique practice drills and plenty of games.

Specialty Camp
A more advanced program with greater concentration on position and refinement of skills. Extensive work on individual skills, as well as the strategies of power volleyball, defensive and offensive systems.

Team Camp
Designed to be the best of everything for both players and coaches. Teams will be introduced to offensive and defensive systems with emphasis on tactics and strategies in competition. Teams will also participate in tournament-style play.

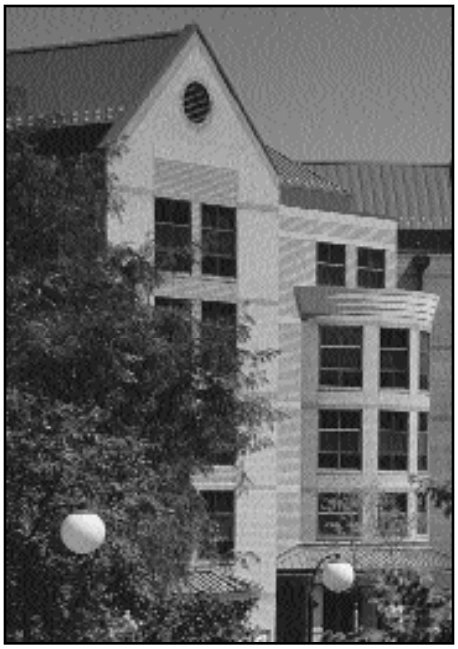
◆ Location
Creighton is located in Omaha, Nebraska, population 390,000 with a combined metropolitan population of about 720,000.

◆ The Campus
The 93.5-acre campus features nearly 60 buildings, many built within the past 20 years. Construction of the new $48 million Science Complex will be completed by early 2003, while the Fr. Richard D. McGloin, S.J., Residence Hall, with suite-style rooms, opened in the fall of 1998. At the center of campus is the historic St. John's Church. The campus is located within walking distance of Omaha's Old Market entertainment and shopping district, the Orpheum Theater, the Civic Auditorium (home of Bluejay basketball) and the Joslyn Art Museum. The Skutt Student Center, the University's "living room," features a warm fireplace, lively grill and spacious ballroom.



Creighton's Fr. Richard D. McGloin, S.J., Residence Hall opened in the fall of 1998. It features suite-style rooms and its own coffee house.

◆ Athletics
• Creighton offers NCAA Division I athletics in 14 varsity sports (six varsity sports for men: baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer and tennis; eight varsity sports for women: basketball, crew, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis and volleyball).
• All men's and women's teams, except crew, compete in the 96-year-old Missouri Valley Conference, the oldest college conference headquartered west of the Mississippi River.
• Creighton serves as the annual host institution for the NCAA College World Series, which will celebrate its 54th season in Omaha this June.

◆ Bluejay Mascot

"Billy Bluejay" is the official mascot of the Creighton University athletics department. The Bluejays were originally depicted by a "birdwatcher's bluejay," but that was changed in 1941 when Joseph P. Murphy, a Creighton alumnus, designed the current version of Billy, one with a more human stance and expression.

Prior to 1924, Creighton teams were referred to as the "Hilltoppers," but that name lost favor because at least six other teams in the country also used the same nickname. The Omaha Bee assisted the University's Athletic Board and Alumni Association in finding a new nickname by asking readers to submit possibilities. After reviewing 200 entries, the Athletic Board decided upon "Bluejays" because of the school's colors, blue and white.

Today, Creighton remains the only NCAA Division I athletics program known officially as the Bluejays.

◆ Fight Song

The Creighton University Fight Song is "The White and the Blue," with the words and music by Gordon Richmond.

"The White and the Blue!
Colors two, it is you we defend.
Fearless for you,
our might to the fight we will lend.
So: wave, colors, wave
We will fight on for your glory.
White and Blue!
We will fight till the fight is won."

The Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J., became Creighton University's 23rd president in August, 2000, following nine years as president of the University of San Francisco.

Father Schlegel succeeds the Rev. Michael G. Morrison, S.J., who served as Creighton's president for 19 years.

This isn't the first time that Fr. Schlegel, 57, has worked at Creighton. He began his academic career here as a lecturer in 1969.

From 1978 to 1982, Father Schlegel served as Creighton's Assistant Vice President for Academic Affairs. He was a member of the Political Science faculty at Creighton from 1976 to 1982.

Father Schlegel has described his decision to return to Creighton as "based, in part, on a desire to 'go home' to an institution that introduced me to higher education administration."

Father Schlegel left Creighton in 1982 to take the post of academic dean at Rockhurst College in Kansas City, Mo. From there, he moved on to Marquette University, where he served as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Father Schlegel also served as Executive and Academic Vice President at John Carroll University before being named president of the University of San Francisco in June of 1991.

Father Schlegel was born and raised in Dubuque, Iowa, with three sisters and two brothers. He entered the Wisconsin Province of the Society of Jesus in 1963 and was ordained in 1973.

He holds A.B. and M.A. degrees from Saint Louis University; a B.D. (honors) degree in Theology from the University of London, and a doctorate in International Relations from Oxford University.

He is a member of the Boards of Trustees at Loyola University Chicago and Xavier University, Foundation Board at St. Mary's Medical Center Foundation, Board of Directors of Il Cenacolo, Board of Trustees of the World Affairs Council, and Board of Directors of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities.

He has served on the Executive Committee of the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities, Executive Committee of the Western College Association, Board of Governors of the Commonwealth Club of California, Board of Directors of Coro Foundation, a director of the American International School of Hong Kong, a member of the Advisory Council at the California Academy of Sciences.

He is a former member of the Board of Trustees at Loyola College Maryland, Loyola University of the South, Saint Louis University, Cleveland's Saint Ignatius High, Beaumont School, and Heythrop College, University of London, Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the chairman of the Korean-American Friendship Society of Northern California. He has served as a member of the Missouri Council on the Humanities and the Milwaukee County Arts Committee. He also has served on accreditation site visits for the North Central Association and the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, as well as a consultant to the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation based in Paris.

He enjoys opera, classical music, racket sports, and the outdoors.

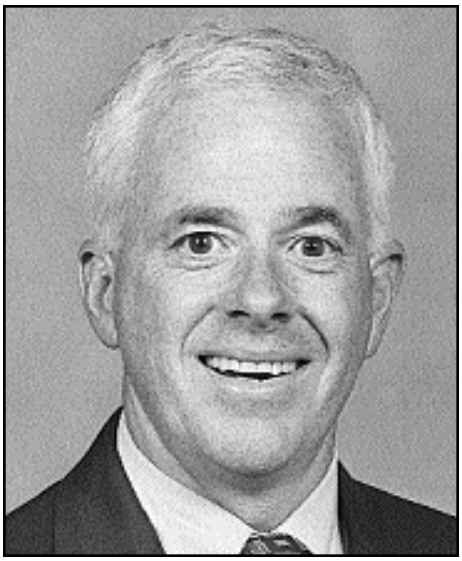
Athletics Director Bruce Rasmussen



Leading Bluejay Athletics to unprecedented heights in the new millenium is Bruce Rasmussen, now in his 23rd year at Creighton University and his ninth as Director of Athletics.

During Rasmussen's tenure leading the Creighton athletic department, Bluejay athletics has enjoyed tremendous success in all areas -- individual and team competition, academic accomplishments, record-breaking fund-raising efforts and facility enhancement.

The 2001-02 academic year marked the school's best finish in the MVC all-sport standings since rejoining the league 25 years ago. Six of CU's 13 league-affiliated sports finished in third place or better, including MVC titles in both men's basketball and women's basketball.

On the field of competition, the Creighton men's soccer team has remained one of the nation's top programs, stretching its streak of consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances to 10, including Final Four berths in 1996 and 2000 and a trip to the Elite Eight in 1998.

Other competitive highlights include the Creighton men's basketball team's rise on the national scene, which has resulted in four-straight NCAA Tournament appearances; the women's basketball team's trip to the 2002 NCAA Tournament; the softball team's 1998 and 1999 Valley championships and trip to the NCAA Tournament in 1999; the baseball team's NCAA Regional appearances in 1999 and 2000; year-to-year improvements in women's soccer; and berths in the MVC Tournament in four of the last five years for the volleyball team, which completed its eighth intercollegiate season last November.

In addition, Creighton and Omaha have remained host of the College World Series while smashing new attendance records in 2002 at Rosenblatt Stadium.

In terms of academics, Creighton's reputation as one of the nation's top academic institutions is reflected in the success the Bluejay student-athletes have had in the classroom during Rasmussen's service as athletics director. Creighton's women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's cross country, women's soccer and men's and women's tennis teams all have received national awards for their academic success.

Creighton's primary annual fund-raising events are the Bluejay Bash, the Bluejay Golf Marathon and the Bluejay Jamboree. Under Rasmussen's supervision, each of these events continues to raise record-breaking funds for Creighton athletics. Most notably, the 2001 Jamboree generated more than $200,000 through its gourmet dinner, raffle and auction.

The successful fund-raising efforts have allowed Creighton to enhance its facilities under Rasmussen's leadership. In 1998, the $1.7 million Student-Athlete Support Center renovation project was completed in the Old Gymnasium, resulting in seven new team locker rooms, an expanded athletic training facility, new offices and storage space and an academic learning center. The centerpiece of the project is The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, which houses the athletics department's academic support team and features 20 computer stations and private study areas.

Another major facility project was completed last summer, as the home of the Bluejay baseball and softball teams, the Creighton Sports Complex, was completed. That project includes a two-story clubhouse with offices, locker rooms and batting cages. New playing surfaces with updated drainage systems for both fields had been added prior to the 2000 season.

In the fall of 2003, the Creighton men's basketball program will move to a new 15,800-seat arena one mile from the CU campus. That venue also has been selected to host the 2006 NCAA Volleyball Final Four.

Rasmussen accepted the associate athletics director position in 1992 after a 12-year run as the winningest coach in Creighton women's basketball history (196-147), culminating in the program's historic 1991-92 season.

The 1992 Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Rasmussen led the 1991-92 Bluejay women to a program-record 28 wins (28-4), the WAC regular-season and tournament championships and a first-round NCAA Tournament victory in the program's first-ever trip to the "Big Dance." With that 28-4 record in 1991-92, Rasmussen completed his college coaching career with a 196-147 record, good for a .571 winning percentage.

After serving as associate athletics director for two years, 1992-94, Rasmussen was named athletics director on Aug. 1, 1994.

A 1971 graduate of Northern Iowa, Rasmussen came to Creighton from Bettendorf (Iowa) High School, where he put together a three-year girl's basketball coaching record of 64-15. His 1978-79 club posted a mark of 27-2 and finished second at the state tournament. Rasmussen also coached at Maxwell (Iowa) High School, with a four-year record of 66-26, and Murray (Iowa) High School, with a two-year ledger of 31-13.

A native of Webster City, Iowa, Rasmussen and his wife, Jill, have five children: Megan (17), David (15), John (11), Katy (7) and Grace (4).

Student-Athlete Support Center

Creighton University's Student-Athlete Support Center was a major renovation of existing space in the Creighton Gymnasium, with the goal of enlarging and improving locker rooms and support facilities. In addition to new locker rooms, the 13,000-square-foot Support Center indudes The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, staff offices, an expanded athletic medicine area and additional athletics storage space.

Student-athletes' demand for academic support has increased dramatically as they attempt to balance a full academic load with athletics. The recruitment, retention and graduation of student-athletes is vital to the success of collegiate athletics.

The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center includes staff offices, 20 computer stations, study tables, sound-proof carels for tutoring and partitions to divide the area into sections for quiet, individual or group study.

The Blue and White Fund was established by former Creighton student-athletes, alumni and friends to support this $1.7 million renovation project, which was completed in the fall of 1998.

Another major facility project began in the spring of 1999, as the Creighton Sports Complex was remodeled. The Bluejay baseball and softball fields received new playing surfaces and updated drainage systems prior to the 2000 season and The Kitty Gaughan Pavilion was completed last summer. The two-story clubhouse includes coaches offices and a furnished lounge area with kitchenette on the upper level and batting cages, locker rooms and a training room on the lower level.

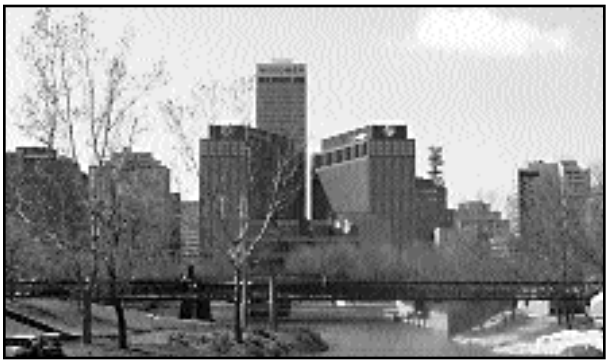
Omaha, Nebraska

A center for information technology, telecommunications, transportation and food processing, Omaha, Nebraska is the heart of a metropolitan area of about 720,000, with more than 1 million people within a 50-mile radius Omaha is located near the geographic center of the United States, on the west bank of the Missouri River that forms the Nebraska-Iowa border. The metro Omaha area has seen steady growth over the past five decades and is now the 45th largest city and 61st largest metro area in the nation.

With an outstanding public education system, Omaha was selected as a model of business-education partnerships to kick off America 2000. Nebraska ranks among the top states nationally for ACT and SAT scores. The Omaha area is home to five top-rated universities, three private colleges, two community colleges, two major medical schools, two pharmacy schools, two dental schools, a law school, six nurses' training programs and numerous private, technical and trade schools.

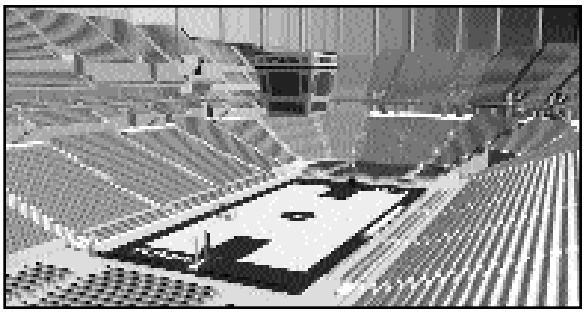
Omaha serves as headquarters for four Fortune 500 companies: ConAgra, Berkshire Hathaway, Mutual of Omaha Companies and Peter Kiewit Sons, Inc. More than 20 insurance companies, two dozen direct response/telemarketing centers and a number of other national and international firms also have headquarters in Omaha. The headquarters of STRATCOM, a vital military nerve center located at Offutt Air Force Base, is located in Omaha.



Omaha is home to several Fortune 500 companies and is one of the largest cities in the Midwest.

Omaha's unemployment rate has remained well under the national average during the past decade Still, Omaha has accommodated new growth. During the 1990s, the Omaha metro area added over 84,000 jobs, an increase of more than 25 percent.

Omaha is a cultural center of the Great Plains, with more than 20 live theaters (three that produce original works), a professional opera company, a regional professional symphony orchestra, a professional children's theater, a children's museum and a youth orchestra. Joslyn Art Museum and the Durham Western Heritage Museum are the two largest of many area art and historical offerings.



This is an artist's rendering of Omaha's new, 15,800-seat arena, set to open in the fall of 2003. The venue has been selected to host the 2006 NCAA Volleyball Final Four.

The Omaha Henry Doorly Zoo has an international reputation for its breeding programs, and its outstanding "no bars" facility boasts the world's largest indoor rain forest, cat complex and aviary. Its newest additions are a salt water aquarium, the most technically advanced in the country, an IMAX theater and the largest indoor desert in the world.

Outstanding sporting events in the area include the annual NCAA College World Series, for which Creighton serves as host, Omaha Royals (AAA baseball), the Tri-City Lancers (U.S. Hockey League), the Omaha Beef (National Indoor Football League) and a wide variety of collegiate and individual sports.

With all the city has to offer, Omaha enjoys a cost of living ranging up to 13 percent below the national average.

For the 54th consecutive year, Omaha will serve as host city for the NCAA College World Series at Rosenblatt Stadium, June 13-23, 2003.

The 93.5-acre Creighton University campus is located within walking distance of Omaha's Old Market entertainment and shopping district.

The Missouri Valley Conference

The new millennium brings challenges for college sports programs, but the Missouri Valley Conference continues to lead by example as one of college athletics' most progressive conferences. Now in its 96th year of existence, the Missouri Valley Conference emphasizes the importance of the student-athlete and is aggressive in its approach to provide opportunities for its member institutions.

Since its inception in 1907, the Missouri Valley Conference has been regarded as a leader by its peers among today's collegiate athletic conferences.

Based in St. Louis since 1985, the Conference has been assertive in its approach to playing host to NCAA basketball championship events, producing a revenue-generating in-house television network, bidding out the right to play host to several sport championships and landing title sponsorships for those events.

Under the direction of J. Douglas Elgin, the ninth commissioner in Valley history, The Valley has played host to the 1993, 1998 and 1999 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Midwest Regionals, the 2001 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Final Four and the 2002 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball First/Second Rounds. In fact, The Valley plays host to two NCAA men's basketball events in the next three years.

On June 25, 1998, The Valley and the St. Louis Local Organizing Committee were tabbed by the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee to play host to the 2005 Final Four (April 2 and 4) at the Edward Jones Dome. Along with the 2005 award, The Valley will serve as host for the 2004 Midwest Regional at the Edward Jones Dome.

The seeds for this vision were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who gathered at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools -- Drake University and Iowa State College -- were admitted.

In the fall of 1907, basketball became the first competitive sport. Today, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country and track (indoor and outdoor), men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis and women's volleyball.

This season, the league will conduct its 92nd outdoor track and field championship, its 85th tennis championship, its 49th baseball tournament and its 65th golf championship for the men. Those programs, plus other current sponsored sports of cross country (44 years), indoor track (36), soccer (12) and swimming and diving (9), have helped solidify the Missouri Valley Conference as one of the most respected conferences nationally.

Athletic accomplishments on the men's athletics side include four national basketball championships, 17 trips to the NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four and a 1989 national baseball championship. In 2001, Southwest Missouri State added to The Valley women's accomplishments, as the Lady Bears advanced to the Women's Basketball Final Four in St. Louis.

The Valley student-athletes and coaches have become household names during the league's illustrious history, both during their collegiate and, for some, professional careers.

The Valley, which has a storied past, began honoring that tradition in the summer of 1997, when the Conference began its athletics Hall of Fame. Hersey Hawkins of Bradley, Larry Bird of Indiana State, Wes Unseld of Louisville, Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, Dave Stallworth of Wichita State, Ed Macauley of Saint Louis and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati were members of the initial induction class. A total of 25 former players, coaches and alums dot the league's Hall of Fame.

The inclusion of women's programs under the Valley banner -- the nation's second-oldest collegiate athletic conference -- has provided an immediate boost. The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference -- which began in 1982 -- merged with the Missouri Valley Conference and was unveiled as part of the new conference on July 1, 1992.

The 2001-02 academic year was, arguably, one of The Valley's greatest, as the league received a total of four at-large bids to NCAA championships -- one each in men's soccer, men's and women's basketball and baseball -- and sent four teams -- men's soccer, women's volleyball, men's basketball and women's basketball -- to the round of "Sweet Sixteen" in their respective NCAA championships.

In men's soccer, Southern Methodist and Creighton represented The Valley in the NCAA Tournament, with SMU -- which ranked first nationally in the NSCAA/Adidas poll for most of the season before finishing fifth -- advancing to the quarterfinals before concluding with a 21-1 record.

In women's volleyball, Northern Iowa advanced to the Sweet Sixteen for the second time in three seasons, posting victories over Northern Illinois and Minnesota and claiming 16th place in the final AVCA Coaches poll.

And for the first time in league history, The Valley had both a men's and women's basketball representative reach the round of Sweet Sixteen in their respective NCAA Tournaments in the same season. For the women, Drake -- which finished 20th in the final USA Today/ESPN poll -- defeated Syracuse and won at Baylor, while on the men's side, Southern Illinois -- which finished 22nd in the final USA Today/ESPN poll -- upset Texas Tech and Georgia.

Bradley became the first league team to play in the CWS in 1950, while Wichita State, which captured the NCAA title in 1989, has now represented The Valley in 15 of the last 16 NCAA baseball tournaments and reached the College World Series in six of the last 14 seasons. Former Wichita State greats Carter (1981) and Darren Dreifort (1993) were named collegiate players of the year.

The Valley has also produced national-caliber student-athletes in its other sponsored sports. In 2001, SMS's Jackie Stiles became the first Valley woman to eam the Honda Award, given to the nation's top female collegiate student-athlete.

In fall of 1997, Creighton's Johnny Torres was named the collegiate male soccer player of the year for a second-straight year.

From its early beginning to its current standing on the map of college athletics, The Valley will always continue to be proactive in its approach.

League members include Bradley University, Creighton University, Drake University, University of Evansville, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University, Southwest Missouri State University and Wichita State University. Affiliate members include Drury University (women's soccer) and Eastern Illinois, SMU, Tulsa, Vanderbilt and Western Kentucky (men's soccer).

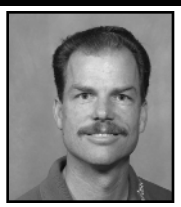
Ben Guliano



Howard Wallace

Creighton has had two head coaches since the program was restarted in 1994. Ben Guliano guided the Bluejays from 1994 to 1996, posting a record of 25-58 (.301) during that time. Current head coach Howard Wallace took over prior to the 1997 season and has led the Bluejays to four Missouri Valley Conference Tournament appearances in his five years on the job. Wallace, who came to Creighton after nine years as an assistant coach at Hawaii, enters the 2002 season with a mark of 65-71 (.478).
